

A History of "Five Corners"

"Five Corners Convention" is the result of an idea by three members who cared for those less fortunate than themselves.

Wade (better known as Black Cat), Martha and Mickey were discussing the high cost of putting on conventions and the fact that some members could not afford the registration fees and other costs.

They thought that since five states (MO, KY, IL, AR, TN) cornered just a short distance from Sikeston, Missouri, that it might be possible to have a convention in Sikeston - invite speakers who live short distances away in each of the five states who were willing to pay their own expenses.

The convention would charge NO registration fee and just pass the hat for expenses.

The first convention was held in December, 1981 and was successful. There has been a convention each year since 1981 - We still just "pass the hat" for expenses.

The convention gets better each year - We hope you can come and enjoy it with us. -
